

Education Resource Development Officer – Commonwealth Home Support Program

- Develop, deliver and evaluate educational resources supporting older people and their carers in the home.
- Start ASAP - full time contract position to 30 June 2020 – North Sydney location close to transport

Carers NSW is the peak body in NSW advocating for carers of all ages and circumstances. We are a not-for-profit organisation connecting and empowering carers and improving their quality of life through activities, programs, training and policy advice.

Engaged to deliver new program developing evidence-based coaching resources to assist older people and their carers to manage safely and sustainably in the home, Carers NSW is seeking an experienced Education Resource Development Officer to design a range of training resources for volunteer coaches to support older people and carers in the home.

Working alongside a Project Officer you will design, deliver and evaluate coaching resources across a variety of mediums, facilitating modules in a pilot phase and incorporating feedback and contributing to overall evaluation of the project. At the end of the project you'll be able to showcase a suite of tested and refined resources to enable older people and their carers to achieve a high quality of independent living.

To be successful in this role you will need:

- Relevant qualification minimum Certificate IV in Assessment and Workplace Training or TAE40110 Cert IV Training and Assessment or working toward same
- Demonstrated experience and sound knowledge of the principles of adult education and group work, to appropriately develop educational resources
- Demonstrated experience in developing education content and resources for delivery across various mediums such as face to face, video link, webinars and e-learning technologies
- Experience in identifying training needs and analysing gaps
- Strong research, analytical, time management and task prioritising skills
- High level written, oral communication and computer skills
- Ability to work unsupervised and within a team environment

Experience working with older people and their carers living at home would be an advantage.

We can offer you a competitive salary plus not for profit salary packaging benefits and a friendly team committed to the organisation's purpose.
